

The Muse Letter

June
2007
#8, Pg.-1

Hello again! A bit past due for another installment of the Museletter! We are still out here, still causing trouble, and touring all over the place! Just had a new band member join us in fact, her name is Annie and you will be hearing more and more about her. I haven't been updating the Museletter as often because we now have a Muses Blog and I've been putting all of our news and excitement in there! That address is <http://web.mac.com/kiltedman/iWeb/> and I try to update it as often as possible... every day when we are on tour and have the internet. There you will find lots of photos often taken within the last 24 hours of where we are and what we are doing. I will also try to send out a Museletter every so often with a list of our upcoming shows, and remind you that they can all be found any time you are curious on our main website located at www.TheMusesMusic.com Where we also have sound clips and Muses information in addition to an updated calendar. Thank you all for listening... we look forward to seeing you on the road!!

We do have some specifically exciting bits of news I wanted to mention here (there are, of course much greater details in the blog and on the web as those sources can be updated instantly as news arrives). The first of these is that we have finally bought a new bus to become the new Muses Tour Bus! We are very excited about the whole prospect, it is currently just a bus shell (meaning that it was a seated passenger bus and has had the seats removed so that we can have an interior with beds and bunks and kitchen and things in it). We have entrusted it to a bus conversion company in Virginia and anticipate that they will require six to eight months to work on it before it will be ready for us to drive it on tour. Still, it's a move in the right direction and we are all very excited! It will look a bit different once finished, but here are a couple of pictures showing what it looks like now.

Even more important than a big shiny new bus though... (what? You ask, could possibly be more exciting and important than that?) Our New LIVE album is coming out this week! For any of you who may not know yet, we had a fantastic live show in a great sound stage here in Colorado, and we recorded the whole thing. It's been a couple of months in the mixing, mastering, and pressing stages... but at long last we should have the first 1,000 of them at our door before weeks end! If you preordered, we will send it to you ASAP, and if you did not preorder... well there's no time like the present! It's a great album, we have had a lot of requests for a "live" album and we have answered the call! There are some clips on our website for any of you who just can't wait till yours arrives in the mail!
