Celtic Music With Zing

Late Summer Plans...

After a fairly slow summer we are jumping back into the music biz with both feet! We are heading out to Indiana and Kentucky, sadly as a duo because Lindsay has decided that the touring life is not for her and has returned to Milwaukee. We wish her the best and hope she has lots of fun at Milwaukee Irish Fest this year. We've already applied for next year, so think good thoughts, tell everyone you know who is associated with Irish Fest that we're great and hopefully we'll be playing there next year!

We will continue to perform at libraries as a duo and at Festivals and larger venues as a trio, bringing in side musicians, new faces and old favorites, depending on where we are and who is available. We'll see what happens down the road. Eventually we'll throw a combination at the wall and it will stick. Meanwhile you'll benefit from hearing us with lots of different musicians, we'll learn lots of different styles and ways of playing and wonderful things will come of all of it.

We're looking forward to heading back to Indiana. Please do check the schedule and see if you can sneak out for a show to get your Muses fix for the year! After that we're off to Kentucky again (they just like us there!) for a week. Then it is time for us to go visit the bus and see how it is progressing. We promise to put up pictures on the blog and give a full update in the next Museletter! We're gunning to have it done by the end of our North-East tour, which is the middle of October so we can take it on its maiden voyage to the Southwest. Keep all fingers and toes crossed! (We are!)

Long's Peak Games!

The Muses are coming to the Long's Peak Scottish/Irish Highland Festival and Scottish Games!!!! We will be performing all three days on the Folk Stage (nearest the Clan Tents) and will be sharing the stage at the American Legion with our dear friends Gobs O' Phun and Oceans Apart Friday and Saturday nights. Tanya will be judging the singing competition once again on Saturday morning. Please make sure you stop by and hear our wonderful line up! Patricia Irby, who was a founding member of Sailor's Dream, will be performing with us all three days. Annie Mariner will be up Saturday and Sunday definitely. We are working to have the new, long awaited DVD available for the Games and will have T-shirts & CDs as always. We hope to see you up there!
